Mark Kroos plays two guitar necks at the same time! Based in Central Florida he is one of the only people in the world touring his trade, and it is as entertaining to watch as it is to hear his talent. His live performances burst with energy and magnetism not typical of solo guitar music. Drawing influence from folk, Celtic, indie, and punk rock artists, as well as many great guitarists, Kroos has developed his own personal edge to the acoustic guitar. ..a performance not to be missed!

The Clarence and Agnes Carlson

Memorial Pipe Organ

was built by Gober Organs of Elora, Canada. Hal Gober and his staff installed the organ during the spring and summer of 2002. This amazing instruments is voiced precisely for our Bethany sanctuary. Over the past 20 years, organists of all skill levels have expressed a great appreciation for the mechanical action of the organ, which allows for greater control of the music by the performer. The organ easily transitions from music of the 1700's to the music of today with grace and grandeur. David Schrader, one of the nation's premiere organists, was the chief consultant for the Bethany Organ Task Force. After playing the completed instrument he stated: "The sounds this organ can make under the hands of a good performer are remarkable!"
